She trained in London, the United States and Europe

- Take your clients to a higher level of effectiveness
- Take yourself on a journey of discovery and growth

You've no doubt heard that NLP is an extremely powerful and effective tool for both trainers and coaches alike, in helping people achieve greater success in all areas of life.

At Ali Stewart & Co we have a unique approach to delivering NLP Practitioner and Master Practitioner training

- our courses are targeted at small groups to give you the individual attention you need to get a thorough grasp of the processes and concepts
- we take you deeply into those areas that are going to be most valuable for you in your professional life

You choose when and where

- We understand your existing commitments may make it difficult to attend a traditional 9-to-5 course, so we offer you the flexibility to fit the training around your commitments
- You can complete the course in a reasonable time without adversely affecting your work and without it costing the earth
- There's plenty of time for lively discussion and practice, giving you the opportunity to really get to grips with NLP
- You are fully supported in between sessions with tutorial and coaching by phone and e-mail

You get a dynamic set of tools and techniques that you can integrate easily and powerfully with what you're already doing

- You will gain a greater understanding of others while embarking on an exciting journey of discovery and self improvement
- You will know the magnetic force of using language beautifully to enrich others

Join the growing number of professionals who use NLP skilfully, to help clients achieve the excellence they need

"The wide knowledge that Tamsin has brought to teaching me the rudiments of NLP has been a hugely enriching experience." Sir Henry Studholme

'Thanks to Tamsin, I feel as though I have a new lease of life ... where I used to go through a destructive self talk that always seemed to prevent me from seeing my own potential, I have now managed to silence these doubts and look beyond what I used to see as limiting barriers' Alex, business consultant

'You are a godsend! You have saved my life and enhanced my ability to help myself and to help other people to an amazing degree!' Martin C
